

Providence Extension Program | Core C American Literature
Q2 W8 Weekly Assignment Guide (12/14, 12/16)

WOW: Word(s) Of the Week

Merry

adjective | (mer-ree)

full of high spirits; marked by festivity

We wish you a Merry Christmas, and a Happy New Year.

Christmas

noun | (KRIS-mus)

a Christian feast on December 25

We wish you a Merry Christmas, and a Happy New Year.

Due Tuesday 12/14:

- Prepare for in-class UTC Test: in two paragraphs of at least 5 sentences, discuss the views of slavery of two characters we have studied in UTC, which will be assigned when you get to class. You may use your character chart and book for this in-class test.
- Read and annotate: UTC ch. 21 – 22
- Research Paper: Submit in writing 2 sources from the library database. On an MLA-formatted document, list your sources in correct Works Cited format. Follow each entry with a paragraph of 3 – 4 sentences: two sentences which describe the source (Who wrote it? Where does it appear? What is the main idea?) and 1 – 2 sentences describing how you will use it in your paper. See Weebly for an example.

Please note that doing a quick internet search on your topic and turning in two links printed on a paper is NOT considered completion of this assignment, and if that is what you turn in it will be handed back to you with a grade deduction and the expectation of the correct assignment emailed within 5 days (which is during your Christmas break).*

Due Thursday 12/16:

- Watch the Christmas movie How the Grinch Stole Christmas. The 1966 Dr. Seuss version. Seriously—watch it.
- Get ready for something fun. With food.

Quarter 3 Pacing Guide will be posted to Weebly before the end of the year. Don't forget to look ahead for assignments due when we return to PEP on Tuesday, 1/11.